

LOOKINGGLASS

STRATEGIC INTELLIGENCE SUBSCRIPTION SERVICE (STRATISS™)

Sharper Intelligence for More Secure Operations

Intelligence at your Fingertips

Planning

Intelligence that helps your organization, especially your senior management team members, understand cyber threat issues, enabling more informed decision-making and policy development.

Operational

Actionable intelligence on time-sensitive events enabling organizations to make better, real-time, tactical decisions.

Context and Correlation

Intelligence on adversary tactics, techniques, and procedures to help secure operational events by indicating future threats or lateral movements.

Strategic Intelligence Subscription Service (STRATISS™) is an annual subscription service that delivers cyber intelligence to functions responsible for security policy, planning, implementation, and ongoing operations. Our targeted intelligence enables more effective policy and compliance decisions, increases security hardening capabilities, and improves ongoing security operations. Intelligence reports can be delivered daily to bi-annually, across three report categories, to continuously keep you abreast of industry threats.

The subscription also includes an annual Cyber Attack Surface Analysis™ report, which exposes any internal risks in your organization's cybersecurity posture. This assessment identifies:

- Live or recent network infections
- Breached account credentials
- Severity of vulnerabilities in public-facing applications
- Fake or lookalike domain names that are responsible for spear phishing attacks
- Coverage of over 6,000 known threat actors, activists, and groups
